Abbott AxSym Plus Immunoassay Analyzer

Abbott AxSym is used for efficient therapeutic drug monitoring and for immunoassay system with broad testing features has random, continuous-access, and STAT processing capabilities. Abbott AxSYM utilizes three technologies such as fluorescence polarization immunoassay, microparticle enzyme immunoassay, and the new ion-capture immunoassay, and you can run a wide range of immuno-diagnostic tests at a time. Moreover, it has the capability to add tests while the instrument is operating. The throughput rates ranges from 80 tests/hour up to 120-tests/hour average.

Customer Reviews: There are yet no reviews for this product. Please log in to write a review.